International Conference

Between Politics and Aesthetics: Richard Shusterman's Pragmatism

University of Lower Silesia and University of Wroclaw

8th of March 2008, Wroclaw, Poland

The conference Between Politics and Aesthetics: Richard Shusterman's Pragmatism aims at covering various aspects of Richard Shusterman’s philosophy which embraces not only aesthetic investigations (for which he is the most known), but also philosophy of culture, philosophy of the body, literary and political theory, epistemology, metaphilosophy, and ethics. Therefore, the event is open to scholars who study Shusterman’s thought from perspectives of diverse academic disciplines. What is crucial, they will not only have the chance to exchange their opinions between each other, but also to confront their interpretations and critiques of Shusterman’s philosophy with the man himself, as Professor Shusterman agreed to be a special guest of the conference: he will give a keynote lecture and will participate in the discussions too, commenting on the papers presented.
